

THE POCHE DAILY RECORD.

FRIDAY, JUNE 18, 1875.

The Business Office of the POCHE DAILY RECORD has been removed to Lynch's Brick Building, Lacombe street, near the depot, where all orders for work will be attended to by Geo. T. Gorman.

THE POCHE DAILY RECORD IS the Cheapest and Best Paper and Advertising Medium on the Pacific Coast. Weekly Subscription, 50 Cents. Advertising at corresponding Low Rates. The RECORD Circulates all over the Pacific Coast, and also in the greater portion of the chief Atlantic Cities and Eastern States generally.

THE BEST COURSE.

Discarding the political aspect of the affair, the present divided state of feeling toward the South is indicative of a new line of action to be adopted in relation to that portion of the Union. On one side we see what has been aptly styled "the bread-and-butter-brigade," and a steadily increasing minority of adherents who, tearing open all our old wounds, would fain reduce the South to a continued reign of martial law. On the other side is found a large number of thinking men with higher views and a broader scope of thought who, irrespective of strict party lines are in favor of a policy which is far more consistent and in entire accordance with political economy. The factious character who cut off his nose to spite his face, had about the same general idea of what his interests were as the man who would discourage and deny any effort on behalf of the South to better her condition. That this is a great country is a fact that the press and Fourth of July orators have duly set forth for some considerable time, but will not tend to put us forward very rapidly. We must find a customer for our productions, and where will we find a better paying market than in the South? Almost entirely devoid of manufactures the Southern people are dependent upon the North for their supplies, and by putting them in a fair way to become purchasers we indirectly do the country at large a benefit and build up the material interests of the nation, not at the expense of a particular section but in a perfectly just and legitimate way. This is a work that commands itself to all men, and the chief point of regret is that it has been delayed so long. "Peace hath her victories no less renowned than War," and the course we have faintly indicated is certainly of far more utility and productive of more salutary results than the frantic ravings of political mountebanks with nothing but private and unworthy ends to satisfy.

The Eureka Sentinel of the 15th inst., speaking of the Centennial and the probable influx of Nevadans, makes a few practical suggestions that may prove of interest. The appropriation of $20,000 in coin, made by the Legislature last Winter, might be converted into currency and the premium, say $3,200, used to erect a sort of temporary pavilion or headquarters, where the residents of the Silver State may meet and have a talk about matters and things. The building to be provided with a drawing-room for Nevada ladies and suitable accommodations for the gentlemen; the matter to be in charge of a competent person from this State, who will give visitors all necessary information in relation to the grounds, accommodations, etc. The ideas are good and worthy of practical execution. From May to November, '76, there will be over 10,000,000 people in Philadelphia, and among that vast throng it would be an immense relief to the sight-seer from this State to have some place where he will be certain to meet friends and interchange cordial greetings.

The New York Herald ironically suggests that the Ohio Republicans would do well to have their late puff of the President copyrighted. In their recent State Convention they endorsed him as a "capable and judicious Statesman," and the Herald thinks that the general use of the phrase by other Republican Conventions might lose the party the next Presidential election.

From the Belmont Courier, of the 12th inst., we learn that State Mineralogist Whitehill and Professor Stewart propose to pay us a visit about the 27th. These gentlemen have been appointed by the Executive Centennial Commission of Nevada and are now making a tour of the State in the interests of the Centennial. They are both men of culture and ability and we hope their efforts will be crowned with success.

President Grant is listening to what the wild waves are saying at Long Branch, and endeavoring, as far as in him lies, to bear up with fortitude under the heavy weight of "the cares which have oppressed me constantly for fourteen years."

The Eastern railroad war that has been raging since last February is now likely to be brought to a peaceful close. It has been a great loss to the railroads implicated and a great gain to the traveling public.

The new Pacific Mail steamer City of Tokio has just made the trip from Yokohama to San Francisco in sixteen days. This is the fastest time on record between the two ports.

The Celestials have commenced to invade Oregon, three hundred having arrived at Portland on the 11th, with a like number due on another vessel.

Beach still continues his argument. It will be a relief to the whole civilized world when the filthy controversy drops out of public sight.

The Oceanic, the pioneer vessel of the Occidental and Oriental Steamship Company, was to leave the Asiatic Coast on the 7th.

The leading European nations have interdicted the further introduction of the potato from this country, Portugal being the latest to issue her manifesto.

The great amount of railroad built in the United States annually and the growing scarcity of suitable timber for ties invests with more than ordinary interest a recent invention in the way of an iron railroad tie. Wooden ties to be good require the main body of the tree, and under the most favorable circumstances will not last over six years. It is claimed that the new invention possesses all the requisites for a good, safe, enduring tie, and can be furnished at less comparative cost than the wooden ones.

SPLIT MILK.—The dispatches from Washington indicate that the action of the grand jury in indicting Hinds, the dishonest mail contractor, is likely to be productive of no permanent good. Hinds seems to know too much and is credited with saying that if he is convicted others will go with him. Hence the lukewarm manner in which the trial has been conducted. The evidence in the case is of ample strength to convict him and that such a disgraceful state of affairs exist is an insult to justice and an affront to public sentiment.

The Austin Reville of the 12th calls attention to the eternal fitness of things by remarking: "Saturday is the one day in the week when clothes-lines are clear, and the dead green of the sagebrush is not relieved by the snowy whiteness of feminine drapery waving in the Summer breeze. We do not for these publicly exposed clothes-lines, forlorn bachelors would never know that lace and embroidery are sometimes attached to those feminine garments which they can imagine but never see on the wearer."

The San Francisco papers are still busy discussing the unexpected action of the late Republican Convention. A lively campaign is probable and we will likely see some mud-slinging between now and the first Wednesday in September.

The principal Ohio and Indiana rivers are being stocked with fish by the Commissioners. We shall presently have the pedigree of trout and salmon and the pure undiluted strain of the bony but toothsome shad.

This is the way the Carson Appeal accounts for a recent shower: "All day long a spirit in slender robes of mist was lowering golden buckets down into the vapory amethyst." "Vapory amethyst" is good.

The Palace Hotel of San Francisco has now over one thousand artisans employed in decorating and finishing it. It is thought that the opening will take place in August next.

The Virginia Enterprise reports several malignant cases of small-pox in that city, and advises immediate investigation and prompt measures to prevent the disease spreading.

SAINTS AND SINNERS.—The above is the title of a new play, written by G. R. Denmore and Mrs. Stenhouse, in San Francisco. Mr. Denmore, it will be remembered, dramatized Mark Twain's Gilded Age, which has proven an successful on the Eastern stage. He has devoted a great deal of attention to "Saints and Sinners," which is bound to be the great sensation of the day. Arrangements have been made for placing it on the boards in San Francisco, New York, Australia and London. General Connor figures as the savior of the priest-ridden and down-trodden people of Utah. Brigham Young takes naturally to the part of the villain, while George Q. Agnew as the low comedy man. Like the Gilded Age, there's millions in it. (S. L. Tribune, 12.)

JAMES BOWRON, Esq., a gentleman who represents United States capital, is in Los Angeles, and will start in a few days on a tour of inspection of the Los Angeles and Independence railway. He will be accompanied by Mr. Buchanan, the Chief of Construction of the road, and they will go together to Panamint and possibly to Salt Lake. If, in the felicitous phrase of Col. Sellers, "there's millions in it," Mr. Bowron's principals may be relied upon to try to get a slice of that Los Angeles and Independence cake. (Los Ang. Exp., 11.)

RAPE AND ROBBERY.—On Saturday last, at the farm of John Goodheart, in this county, a terrible outrage was committed by two unknown men. While the hands were at work in the fields at some distance the two men entered the house and overpowered a girl who was in charge. Taking her into the cellar they brutally outraged her person and then ransacked the house, securing $150 in currency. They then escaped, leaving no clue to their identity, except that the broken English of one of them indicated that he was a German. (Omaha Bee, 8.)

ORVILLE GRANT.—A few years hence and a Brother Orville, of the reigning family, will be a double and twisted millionaire. The Government appropriates immense sums annually for the benefit of the Indians, and when it comes to raking in those appropriations Brother Orville is an Indian seventeen feet high. (Courier Journal.)

Colonel Harry L. Thornton is in Georgetown, Colorado, engaged in a lawsuit there. We believe that this case is one in which Judge McMurtry, the gentleman who died a few days since at the Ormsby House, was one of the parties litigant. (Carson Appeal, 13.)

San Francisco bootblack: "Shin'er boots, sir?" Mr. James Lick, testily: "Didn't I tell you five minutes ago that I didn't want my boots blackened?" "Yer did, mister, but I didn't know but what yer'd make a revocation!" Exit imp. (San Francisco Paper.)

The following gentlemen on the 9th inst., were elected members of the San Francisco Stock and Exchange Board, at the initiation fee of $25,000: Wm. Sharon, J. C. Flood, R. F. Morrow, Jas. D. Fry, Wm. S. O'Brien, Alex. Austin, G. W. Finney, R. C. Hooker, C. N. Felton, H. H. Scott, J. P. Jones.

The Boston Post has news to the effect that "Italian brigands are holding an English mother-in-law for ransom, and the son-in-law says they can hold her and be d—appointed."

An old gentleman arrived from Europe on Friday, and he had no sooner entered his hotel than some one spoke to him about the Beecher trial. "What," said he, "aint that thing over yet?" And he sailed for Europe on Saturday. (New York Mail.)

A party of five for the Black Hills, with two sixteen shooters each and a barrel of Omaha whisky, last week, arrived at Cheyenne. They intend to buy a load of bread apiece and some more whisky before starting on their long and hazardous journey.

The public debt statement for May shows a decrease of $1,189,000.

We regard with no small interest the increasing evidence that Los Angeles is shortly to take high rank as a mineral country. It should never be forgotten that the first discovery of gold in California was made not at Sutter's Mill but in the Feliciano district, in the San Gabriel mountains, within a few miles of our city. We saw to-day rich specimens of minerals which had been brought from a trifling distance from our city. We have expressed the opinion that people who are now living will see the day when from Mono county clear to the Peninsula of Lower California, a man will be able to ride that whole distance without getting out of the sound of a quartz mill, and we are more than ever of that way of thinking. Forcible, eh, zinc, silver and silver are discoveries which we recorded within the last two weeks as having been made within a short radius of Los Angeles. (Los Ang. Exp., 11.)

A California octogenarian has buried three wives whose maiden names were Green, Grass, and Groze. He stirred up the fire with kerosene the other day, and now he lies in the cold, cold grave, and the green grass grows above him.

Our two-cent and five-cent pieces have the motto, "In God We Trust," but our new twenty-cent piece hasn't. When a man gets that way he don't propose to trust anybody, you know.

When a man stepped up to a newstand the other day and asked for some lively reading, "principally about murders," the clerk promptly handed him a Massachusetts paper. (Courier Journal.)

The defense has exerted its best efforts. Now come—but—ah—Beach, it will not last forever. (Inter Ocean.)

A new silver lode has been discovered in Colorado Gulch, Mono, the ore assaying as high as $1,500 per ton.
